You will also see sample photos of an apartment that is available for rent. Other items you can see here include floor plans, maps, and 3D or panoramic tours. The listing may even offer reviews of other residents, along with a list of schools, parks and shops in the area. ... Make a contact for a viewing, of course, you will never want to rent an apartment without seeing it in person first. It is also important to check all the information online to make sure it is correct. Most sites provide contact information or a shipping form so they can have an apartment manager contact you. Give them your information if you take a place seriously and request a real life tour. More Questions than Questions. NET A thesis is the last step in the completion of graduation. It offers students an opportunity to explore a particular topic relevant to the field in which they are working. This type of research is based on beliefs and conceptual values. Students working on the thesis should define their interest and solve questions about the topic chosen by them. Thesis assignment is offered in almost all departments of a school or university. An architectural thesis is one of them that requires the student to question about architecture and define concepts such as a theme, site and program. Such projects are intellectual works that must advance. It is a combination of discussion and reasoning.
